Accounts of Business Organizations. Accounts held in the name of a business, organization, or association member are subject to all of the conditions and terms contained in this Agreement for natural person accounts, and the following additional rules. The Credit Union reserves the right to require the business member to provide an account authorization card or other documentary evidence satisfactory to the Credit Union, informing the Credit Union who is authorized to act on the business member's behalf. No POD beneficiary designation or other designation shall apply to the account. You agree to notify the Credit Union of any change in this representative authority of your agent. The Credit Union may rely on your written authorization until such time as the Credit Union is informed of changes in writing and has had a reasonable time to act upon such notice. The Credit Union may require that third-party checks payable to a business may not be cashed, but must be deposited to a business account. You agree that the Credit Union shall have no notice of any breach of fiduciary duties arising from any transactions by any agent of the account owner, unless the Credit Union has actual notice of such breach.
